

Becoming a Certified Professional Co-Active Coach (CPCC)

Wondering whether certification is for you?

Coaches join our certification program because they want to further build their confidence, sharpen their skills, and be recognized as the experts in their field. The experiential learning and transformational experiences you've embraced through your coach training mean you're well set up for Co-Active certification.

Here's some helpful information about our program and how certification can enrich your journey to becoming a professional coach.

Benefits of Certification

Certification is more than a piece of paper — it's a testament to your dedication and expertise as a coach. This program is designed for professionals who are committed to their personal and professional growth for the sake of greater aliveness and discovery for their coachees. Here are some of the ways it can help you:

Boost your coaching confidence: As you progress through the certification program and receive feedback and validation, your confidence as a coach will soar.

Gain recognized credentials: You'll be certified in the Co-Active model as a Certified Professional Co-Active Coach (CPCC) and you'll also be eligible to apply for the Associate Certified Coach (ACC) credential from the International Coaching Federation. Both credentials are recognised and respected worldwide.

Enhance the legitimacy of your business: Certification lends credibility to your coaching practice, establishing you as a trusted professional in the field.

Receive feedback on your coaching: Our program provides ample opportunities for feedback, allowing you to refine your coaching skills and grow professionally.

Practice, practice, practice: Through structured practice and feedback, you'll hone your coaching abilities, making you a more impactful coach for your coachees.

Deepen your peer support: You will continue to build connections and support through our global Co-Active community.

What to Expect

While the program builds on the foundation of knowledge from our core curriculum, this program uses different technologies and experiences to continue your development as a Co-Active coach. The certification program consists of a weekly 90-minute class (online) for 25 weeks, plus 100 hours of client coaching and 10 hours of mentor coaching. Your time on calls will be spent between group supervisions, in which your coaching is supervised by an accredited Co-Active faculty member, instruction classes within your certification pod, and student-led calls as a trio for peer support and practice.

You can apply to start Certification anytime* from when you have completed your Process course. Your application form can be found in your student portal.

*You will have a period of 5 years from when you've completed your core curriculum to start Certification before you will be required to complete a refresher program.

Price: US$6,500

(5-month installment plan available comprising of a $250 non-refundable registration fee on application and 5 equal monthly installments of $1,250, taken once you start the program.)

During certification you will need to hire your own coach who must hold the CPCC and PCC/MCC credentials.

Route to Accreditation with the International Coaching Federation

Our certification program is accredited by the International Coaching Federation (ICF). That means once you're a Certified Professional Co-Active Coach (CPCC), you are also eligible to apply for the ICF's Associate Certified Coach (ACC) credential and will be able to gain your Professional Certified Coach (PCC) credential once you log more coaching hours.

Certification Requirements:

	CPCC		ACC	PCC
Education	200 hours*		60 hours	125 hours
Coaching	100 hours		100 hours	500 hours
Mentor coaching and supervision	10.5 hours built into program		Mentorship gained through CPCC program qualifies	Mentorship gained through CPCC program qualifies
Performance evaluations	Oral exam built into program		CPCC evaluations qualify	CPCC evaluations qualify

*Co-Active coach training (Fundamentals, Fulfillment, Balance, Process, and Synergy) provides 104 hours of education; our certification program provides an additional 96 hours.

**Once you have logged a further 400 coaching hours, you will be eligible to apply for the PCC credential.

Feedback from Previous Certification Students

“I’ve been coached by both Co-Active-trained coaches and folks that went through ICF accreditation outside of CTI, and I felt the power of the coaching and embodiment was much stronger when done with Co-Active coaches. I wanted that level of skill mastery, value, and legitimacy for my clients.”

“The professional and personal growth is tremendous. I was able to increase my impact as a coach and People & Culture Business Partner to a degree that I would not have expected. The quality of the program, trainers, and supervisors is exceptional.”

“The quality and duration of training is extensive. I feel like, compared to my peers in the industry, I have had far more rigorous formal training than most of them — which gives me confidence as a coach and also strong credibility.”

“I love the Co-Active model. It gives us an amazing skillset as coaches and helps us to connect with our clients from the place that they are naturally creative, resourceful and whole. It’s also AWESOME training, from start to finish.”

Starting Your Coaching Practice

Through certification, you grow your confidence and start working with paying clients. Certification is the push to get you to invest in your coaching business and source paying clients. In fact, you can pay back the cost of your certification with fewer than 3 coaching sessions a week over your 25-week program.*

*This assumes a coaching session price of $100. Some certification students charge less than this in order to start building their client base. However, students are free to set their own rates.
